1. Authority, authority, authority, Ted, the authority I have given to My body of believers who will take Me at My word—is so far beyond the imagination of those who cannot see.

Ted, I equipped My believers in Me—I equipped them—I gave gifts and I gave authority and I gave power, and Ted, they have forfeited it and chosen to walk in intellect and control and passions.

So much more—so much fuller—so much more complete and fulfilling are those who move in Me and embrace what I have provided for their use, enjoyment, and work.

2. So much for so little. I ask so little for what I give and provide, protecting My lambs, protecting My lambs I am so often, awaiting growth for which they must choose.

3. I come, I call, I confirm, I await, and I await so many to take authority in the authority that I have given them, to walk forth in might and power and rejoicing in Me and My design being fulfilled and realized in their lives—their reality of realness—in the walking out of their days—each day.

So little, so little are so many.

4. Blessed are you for what you have seen this day—taking authority to walk into My authority given, to say and see My provision and begin to walk therein [Luke 10:18-20].

5. So much for so little. So far above your realm of sight, of five senses, are Me and what I have provided, and awaits those who will take authority to enter the realm of provided Truth and revelation—provision on every level—awaiting, awaiting, awaiting.

6. Move forward on your book in haste not, but diligence each day to bring forth, in power, the newness of the new things I am doing—revealing My heart in My own words, I am.

7. I kiss you Ted. I kiss you for kissing My body and hugging them close and letting them know of My deep affection for them, and their thoughts that run to Me. Oh Ted, My body—thank you for caring deeply about My body and those in leadership and those leaderless who roam and survive barely. Thank you for caring about the isolated and forgotten and burned-by-others in ways many. I love them. I adore My body. I long and yearn to be close to My body. I speak and speak and speak and so few listen, and fewer record and write and share. But you will help many come close to Me and partake of Me and participate in the new things I am doing. Thank you. Thank you for caring. Thank you for compassion displayed—activated, revealed, given, expressed, taught.

8. Thank you for caring for My body.
Thank you for caring for My Mine.
Thank you for sharing My words and teaching My body how much more I want to show Myself in ways many—and splendid—in splendor and majesty.

9. I love you.
Love on My people more.
Love on My body more.
Love Me more and let Me share so much more fully of Me and what I am now doing.

10. More, more, more for you reader/hearer, love of My heart—My body, My bride.
I love you, I love you, I love you.
Come to Me more.
Come to Me closer.
Come to Me and let Me be fully Me—with you in intimacy—you and Me—and see what I do with vessels consecrated.

I love you, I love you, I love you.
